

KEEPING UP WITH THE PACE OF BUSINESS WITH A DISASTER RECOVERY PLAN

AT A GLANCE

Rinchem recognized that an improperly upgraded and managed IT infrastructure could result in catastrophic failure. ConvergeOne implemented a disaster recovery solution, ensured the availability of all services and provided a reliable network. As a result, Rinchem has the solutions in place to keep up with the pace of business as it grows by 14-19 sites over the next few years.

BUSINESS EXPECTATION + RESULTS LEVERAGE CLOUD FOR DISASTER RECOVERY

- + Rinchem is a leading chemical management solutions provider. Following a critical event, Rinchem felt it was time to implement a disaster recovery solution that leveraged the cloud.
- + Rinchem partnered with ConvergeOne to focus on building and maintaining a Disaster Recovery as a Service (DRaaS) solution that could support its hybrid IT infrastructure.
- + Rinchem can now ensure business continuity, providing users with seamless access to all the applications and tools needed to do their jobs.

PROVEN, PROGRESSIVE, PURPOSEFUL PROVIDING SEAMLESS ACCESS TO MISSION-CRITICAL TOOLS

- + ConvergeOne developed a DRaaS solution, helping Rinchem accelerate and deliver measurable results by migrating its virtual infrastructure to Amazon Web Services (AWS).
- + After building an instance for critical services in AWS, Rinchem wanted to be able to take microservices and deploy them in AWS should it have a huge on-premises issue.
- + This led to a second project to design another instance that allow Rinchem to deploy single services rather than the entire system.

“ConvergeOne makes the solution happen the way we need it to, and it’s because they care about Rinchem and understand our environment. That type of time investment is very rare to come across. We’re very comfortable with the ConvergeOne team. It’s one thing to have a solution in place, but without the right partnership and support, we introduce risk.”
